

Mercury Systems Receives $9.2M in Orders for Rugged Servers for Airborne Surveillance Application

Aug 22, 2019 at 4:15 PM EDT

ANDOVER, Mass., Aug. 22, 2019 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Mercury Systems, Inc. (NASDAQ: MRCY, www.mrcy.com) announced it received $9.2 million in orders from a leading defense prime contractor for rugged rackmount servers to be used in an airborne surveillance application. The orders were booked in the Company's fiscal 2019 third quarter and fiscal 2020 first quarter and are expected to be shipped over the next several quarters.

"We work closely with customers to understand and fulfill their unique application requirements," said Scott Orton, Vice President and General Manager of Mercury's Trusted Mission Solutions group. "In collaboration with a leading prime contractor, we designed our airborne servers to meet the unique requirements of the airborne cabin environment while optimizing performance, mitigating risk, and minimizing long-term costs."

Mercury's Rugged Enterprise Servers (RES) are deployed in a broad range of surface, subsurface, ground and airborne mission-critical applications. Featuring the latest commercial off-the-shelf (COTS) technologies, Mercury's servers deliver industry-leading performance and superior resilience to shock, dust, vibration and temperature extremes, ensuring availability in space-constrained, harsh environments.
