

Mercury Awarded Contract To Develop Multi-Mission Subsystem for U.S. Military Programs

Oct 22, 2025 at 7:00 AM EDT

ANDOVER, Mass., Oct. 22, 2025 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Mercury Systems, Inc. (NASDAQ: MRCY, www.mrcy.com), a global technology company that delivers mission-critical processing to the edge, today announced it was awarded a multi-year, cost-plus-fixed-fee development contract in September to develop a multi-mission, multi-domain subsystem for a U.S. defense prime contractor.

"This program will leverage open standards and a broad set of capabilities from the Mercury Processing Platform, including advanced microelectronics packaging, mixed signal conversion and distribution, thermal management, and chassis-level integration," said Joe Plunkett, Vice President of Mercury's Advanced Concepts Group, which will lead the program. "This award demonstrates the customer's confidence in our ability to rapidly develop trusted, integrated solutions and subsequently transition to the high-rate manufacturing that is required to support multiple national security platforms."
